The Downwind Walk: A USAR Paramedic's Experiences After the Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 Steve Kanarian

The Downwind Walk lets you experience the rescue efforts following the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York on September 11, 2001 through the eyes of an urban search and rescue (US&R) paramedic.

The author was a member of the Fire Department of New York City (FDNY), EMS Command in the Bronx who was deployed with the US&R team at Ground Zero. Their mission was to rescue victims of the terrorist attack.

The reader is invited to take the Downwind Walk with Lt. Kanarian and his team as he recounts the events, and vivid memories at Ground Zero.

In this book, you will read stories about EMTs and paramedics who were at Ground Zero with the author, including others who made the "ultimate sacrifice". This story is an account of the EMS story and one of the worst days in American history.

No doubt you have heard the popular stories that tell of heroism on airline flights, in the twin towers and at the Pentagon. It is also important for future generations of Americans to know about the sacrifice and dedication of EMS first responders. Now is the time to share their stories as the 15th anniversary of 9/11 looms on the horizon as ominously as the smoke and dust filled the atmosphere after the collapse.

This book is a must read for EMS students and Homeland Security students.
