For years people who have been involved in the spiritual science have been asking what exactly the Akashic Records are. For the past 5000 years, the word Akashic Records has been thrown around and it is in fact an old Sanskrit word akasha, which means "space".

The Akashic Records for many spiritual enlightened beings are the hidden library in space. This database of unlimited information can be revealed by having one dive into his or her own subconscious mind in deep state of meditation. If you think of the power of your internet and the way it holds the information of the world these days, then the Akashic Records can be likened to an internet of the astral world, organized and controlled by God!

Unlike the internet it is free information that anyone can access whenever they need it, at any time as long as they know how. It is known in the world of spirits that every person who ever lived and died, has made his fair share of contribution to the amount of information confined within the drawers of the Akashic Records.

Funny enough, where our thoughts, experiences and actions are concerned they have never been a private matter. They have always been a part of the universal mind, energetic body and consciousness as a whole. People like Nostradamus, Quatzlcoatl, Rudolph Steiner, Mary Baker Eddy, Emmanuel Swedenbord, and Edgar Cayce who have accessed the Akashic Records were all "normal" human beings like you and I. However, they were a chosen few in those days that decided to work their inner muscle and focus the direction of their mind in a way that was multi-dimensional.

The hunger for finding a huge source of knowledge within the consciousness (that was given freely to them) were the most important feature of their lives. For many of these big minds, the Akashic Records were the doorway to magic, mystery, and even great occult powers. In the information age that we reside today, the Akashic Record's may just be one of the most important discoveries of our time.

Many believe too that the individual life's purpose of each and every one of us, like our destiny in love, relationship, finances, health, career all are and can be found in these records. Some have even stated that the deepest secrets of mankind came from the Akashic Records once the Akashic doors were open. When you have a glimpse of this world, you come to realize that there truly nothing that cannot be discovered.

Everybody has the inherent ability to access their Akashic Records. In fact other people can get, access to your personal records when they know how to read them correctly. This cosmic internet cafe is always open for free for all to explore.
